

Table of Contents

Introduction	9
Chapter I
Parliamentarism and its evolution	13
1. The concept of parliamentarism	13
2. Institutional and geographic evolution of parliamentary	17
Chapter II
Completing the composition of national assemblies, new methods of voting in general elections and partiocracy	39
1. Completing the composition of national assemblies	39
2. E-voting – an alternative method of voting in general elections ..	44
2.1. Mechanization and e-voting in the election process	44
2.2. Confrontation of the principles of election law with e-voting procedures	47
2.3. Evaluation of e-voting and de lege ferenda postulates	53
3. Partiocracy – state appropriation	55
Chapter III
Limitation of autonomy, reevaluation of functions and regression of morals and parliamentary language	61
1. Political limitation of parliament’s autonomy	61
2. Revaluation of the parliament’s functions	68
3. Fall of morals and parliamentary language	77

Chapter IV

Latest forms of democracy: deliberative democracy, participatory democracy and media democracy 83

1. Deliberative and participatory democracy 83

2. Media democracies 98

Conclusions and reflections 103

Summary 111

Bibliography and normative acts 115