

CONTENTS

Tabula Gratulatoria	5
----------------------------------	---

Editor's Note – Marta Piasecka, Milena Wojtyńska-Nowotka	13
-----------------------------------------------------------------------	----

PROFESSOR STANISŁAW DUBISZ AT THE UNIVERSITY OF WARSAW

Wanda Decyk-Zięba, The period 1972–2007. At the Department of the History of the Polish Language and Dialectology, University of Warsaw	17
Grzegorz Bąbiak, Professor Stanisław Dubisz, Director of the Institute of Applied Polish Studies. ..	20
Andrzej Krzysztof Guzek, Magister dixit	25
Józef Porayski-Pomsta, Professor Stanisław Dubisz and his "Poradnik Językowy" ("The Linguistic Guide")	29
Marta Piasecka, Milena Wojtyńska-Nowotka, A word about our Professor	32
Radosław Dubisz (oprac.), Bibliography of Professor Stanisław Dubisz's publications of 2018–2022	34

STUDIES

I. HISTORY OF LANGUAGE – EVOLUTION OF THE POLISH LANGUAGE – HISTORY OF THE POLISH LANGUAGE

Aleksandra Janowska, Recurring(?) words. The problems of the stability of vocabulary	47
Krzyszyna Kleszczowa, Traces of obsolete word-formation models in the contemporary Polish language	56
Tomasz Korpysz, On the need to distinguish historical humourology. Introductory remarks	64
Tadeusz Lewaszkiewicz, The problem of diphthongal pronunciation of nasal vowels in the history of the Polish language	73
Krzysztof Maćkowiak, On the need for research on Polish linguistic awareness of past eras	87
Aleksandra Niewiara, Political discourse versus non-continuity of the Polish state and changes of communication languages	99
Magdalena Pastuch, Old colloquial dialogue – new prospects for research	110
Ewa Woźniak, The need for and concept of a new synthesis of the history of the Polish	121
Rafał Zarębski, On a poorly present link in Polish diachronic linguistics. Bilingualism and multilingualism of sources as a research problem	129

II. SYSTEM – NORM – USAGE – CODIFICATION

Magdalena Derwojedowa, Periphrastic feminatives in Polish parliamentary discourse	143
Maciej Grochowski, Prepositional function of the Polish adverbial comparatives	155
Olga Jauer-Niworowska, Interdisciplinary bases of the speech-language therapy and the subject matter of the speech-language research and interventions	163

Marek Ruszkowski, The nouns rector (rector) and magnificencja (magnificence) in a linguist's interpretation	172
Katarzyna Sobolewska, Feminine supporters of ideas, exponents of views. Żeromski as a creator and user of a certain type of feminatives	180
Kinga Tutak, Punctuation as a unified literary art (a forgotten 1919 treatise on punctuation by Wiktor Wąsik)	190
Ewa Wolańska, Adam Wolański, The smallest units of the Latin alphabet	199

III. STYLE – GENRE – TEXT – SPEECH ACT

Agnieszka Budzyńska-Daca, Genological soliloquia on great speech	219
Iwona Burkacka, “The word which has no emotions” – on the role of professolect in the reportage “Ubytkowanie” (“Depletion”) by M. Szczygieł from the volume: “Nie ma” (“There’s no”)	232
Anna Cegięła, Four discourses on the Polish-Belarusian border crisis	244
Jolanta Chojak, Problems with the description of a meaning in the dictionary of an author's language	258
Anna Dunin-Dudkowska, Genres of speech in teaching Polish as a foreign language (as illustrated by a blog)	271
Stanisław Gajda, Stylistic reflection from the historical and biographical angle	283
Stanisław Koziara, On high style. Around the experiences of the biblical Polish language	295
Monika Kresa, Comments on the film dialectisation in “Konopielka” by Witold Leszczyński and Edward Redliński	305
Artur Rejter, Onymic determinants of the genre of late Baroque popular romance. On the example of “Miłość bez odmiany mocna jako śmierć” (“Love without a change as strong as death”) by Krzysztof Stanisław Zawisza	324
Aldona Skudrzyk, Conversational style and inference	334
Urszula Sokólska, The communist reality reflected in language: revisiting the speech of the inhabitants of Białystok in the 1950s in Krzysztof Gedroyc's novel “Piwonია, niemowa, głosy” (“Peony, mute, voices”)	340
Maria Wojtak, Artfully about the ordinary – journalistic conceptism accomplished in a specific text	354

IV. WORDS – VOCABULARY – DICTIONARIES

Wanda Decyk-Zięba, Antoni Morzycki's terminological neologisms in the Vilnius and Warsaw “Słownik języka polskiego” (“Dictionary of Polish”)	369
Zygmunt Gałęcki, The history and geography of the Old Polish language word wyczółek	383
Irena Jaros, The dialectal adjective nielusy. The origin, meaning, and geography of the word ...	393
Halina Karaś, Józef Peszke's remarks on “Słownik wyrazów obcego a mniej jasnego pochodzenia...” (“Dictionary of foreign words of a less clear origin...”) by Jan Karłowicz...	401
Dorota Kozaryn, The world of instrumental music in “Kronika, to jest historyja świata” (“The chronicle, that is the history of the world”) (1564) by Marcin Bielski	411
Beata Kuryłowicz, Folk food names in the 19th-century dictionary by Zygmunt Gloger	421
Jolanta Mędelaska, On Polish textual translations omitted in the Dubrowski Russian-Polish dictionary (in the letter T section)	433
Jan Miodek, On the Silesian wyskać (to scream), tyskać (to grumble) and kiełzać (to slide, to trip, to curb)	447

Anna Piotrowicz, Małgorzata Witaszek-Samborska, Traces of corona-Polish in the thematic subfield “entertainment” at the time of the pandemic	452
Józef Porayski-Pomsta, Galicisms in “Słownik warszawski” (“Warsaw Dictionary”). Reconnaissance	465
Anna Seretny, Polish pedagogical lexicography: lexicography without identity	476
Jerzy Sierociuk, Szmania, szmaja and other Greater Polish names for ‘a person who does (everything) with his or her left hand’	486
Jadwiga Waniakowa, Motivation of Polish dialectal plant names with the component zabi ..	498

V. LANGUAGE – CULTURE – VALUES

Halina Kurek, Globalisation versus the linguistic and cultural identity of Poles of rural origin	515
Kazimierz Ożóg, The theme of an angel in Polish religious songs: linguistic and cultural aspects	524
Radosław Pawelec, Love and contempt in the history of the Polish language	536
Halina Pelcowa, Demonology and magic behaviours in the linguistic and cultural picture of the rural area in the Lublin region	546
Elżbieta Rudnicka-Fira, *Stani (sie) sławny! (Become famous!). And that’s how it happened. Still around the name of the Distinguished Jubilarian – “Stanisław”	555
Małgorzata Rzeszutko, On the axiological forum... – language symptoms of values	566
Irena Szczepankowska, Political economy, economics, philosophy of business...? Selection of the name for an academic discipline as a sign of language awareness among the Polish elite in the 19th century	577
Magdalena Trysińska, Student essays as a source of knowledge about values important in the life of youth	586

VI. LANGUAGE CONTACTS – POLISH COMMUNITY ABROAD – POLONICA – GLOTTODIDACTICS

Elżbieta Awramiuk, Spelling competence of the Polish minority in Latvia	599
Mieczysław Balowski, The dispute over a belonging of the dialects in Teschen Silesia and Opavian Silesia to a given language community	608
Jagoda Cieszyńska-Rożek, Development of bilingualism in infants	619
Justyna Garczyńska, Vowel [y] in the speech of Polish women from Kazakhstan	629
Piotr Garncarek, I speak and even swear in Polish: about the meaning of vulgarisms, swear words, and offensive phrases in teaching Polish as a foreign language	638
Przemysław E. Gębal, Sławomira Kołsut, Towards positive teaching of Polish as a foreign language. Preliminary reflections on the meaning of well-being in the process of learning and teaching	647
Jakub Z. Lichański, Polish collections in Sweden: from a bibliographer’s experience	661
Władysław Miodunka, The situation of Polish glottodidactics in 2020	678
Agnieszka Myszk, Poland and Polishness in the names of folklore ensembles of the Polish diaspora	691
Anna Zielińska, Neutralisation of grammatical gender in the first and second person singular of verb forms in the past tense in Polish in the context of Polish-Lithuanian and Polish-German bilingualism	702