

CONTENTS

PAPERS AND DISSERTATIONS

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                |     |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Ewa Koziół-Chrzanowska, Anna Rabczuk : Is the B2 level a good measure of language comprehensibility for native speakers? Controversy around the provisions of the Polish Accessibility Act ..... | 7   |
| Małgorzata Maciejewska : A method for compiling a B2-level domain-specific vocabulary list for the banking sector in the context of Article 16 of the Polish Accessibility Act ....              | 24  |
| Karolina Ruta-Korytowska, Joanna Kostrzewa : The language of instructions in the eighth-grade exam from the perspective of plain language .....                                                         | 47  |
| Krystyna Chlebosz : Adapting exam instructions to the needs of pupils with Asperger's syndrome using generative artificial intelligence .....                                                           | 63  |
| Adam Wierzowiecki : Experts versus AI models: A comparative assessment of the quality of subheadings added to texts .....                                                                               | 89  |
| Mateusz Gromulski : The dispute over plain language in light of social semiotics .....                                                                                                                  | 110 |
| Agnieszka Ławrynowicz : Plain language in the National Revenue Administration in the context of administrative court rulings .....                                                                      | 136 |
| Natalia Zan : The use of plain language in court rulings: A survey-based study .....                                                                                                                    | 153 |
| Anna Pawłowska : Terms and conditions simplified: A case study of Netflix and HBO Max streaming platforms with the use of automated analysis and surveys .....                                          | 181 |

REPORTS, COMMENTS, POLEMICS

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |     |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Justyna Białowąs, Dominika Fał, Agata Kostrzewa, Małgorzata Remisiewicz, Weronika Uchnast, Jacek Wasilewski : The power of plain language. How clear communication fosters accessibility, security, and trust ..... | 199 |
| Marta Chojnacka-Kuraś, Monika Kresa, Natalia Zych : Theory meets practice. 3 rd Congress of Effective Communication (Warsaw, October 28–29, 2025) .....                                                  | 211 |