

SOCIAL SERVICES
IN CONTEMPORARY SOCIAL POLICY.
A REVIEW OF PROBLEMS AND A VISION FOR THE FUTURE

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Preface	15
Introduction – theoretical assumptions	21
Chapter 1. Social services and welfare state in a developmental and definitional context	35
Introduction	35
1.1. The origin, evolution and emergence of the service perspective	36
1.2. Four main welfare state paradigms	40
1.3. Defining and classification of services	55
1.4. Scientific definition of social services	62
1.5. Legal-normative definition of social services by the European Commission	72
1.6. Defining social services on the example of European countries	77
1.7. Defining social services on the example of non-European countries ...	96
1.8. The author’s attempt to define social services in the context of development and changes within welfare states	102
1.9. Social services and cash benefits – conflict or cooperation?	110
1.10. Criticism and affirmation of the service approach	115
Conclusion	119
Chapter 2. Transgressiveness of the service perspective against contemporary theoretical concepts	121
Introduction	121
2.1. The concept of service society and post-industrial economy	124
2.2. The concept of civic and multi-sectoral social policy	127
2.3. The concept of activation	137

2.4. The concept of social investment	146
2.5. The concept of social innovation	156
2.6. The concept of economisation, commercialisation and managerialisation	161
2.7. The concept of goods and public choice	170
2.8. The concept of decentralisation and de-institutionalisation	173
2.9. The concept of utilising the informal sector	182
Conclusion	189
Chapter 3. Organisation and management in the field of social services	193
Introduction	193
3.1. (New) Public management and governance as two approaches to social service organization	195
3.2. Partnerships and networks – a new formula for service management	208
3.3. Strategic planning, programming and design of social services – towards effective leadership	224
3.4. Sharing, producing and co-producing services – the changing role of the service user	238
3.5. Standardization, modelling or individualization of social services?	255
3.6. Integration of social services for better coordination	266
3.7. Diversity of social services and demand for new competences	272
3.8. Financing, evaluation and quality measurement of social services	284
3.9. Deficits or illusions of evidence based social services	296
Conclusion	306
Chapter 4. Social services in selected specific social policies in Poland – the status and prospects for development	309
Introduction	309
4.1. Labour market services	312
4.2. Activation and integration services within the social economy system ..	325
4.3. Social assistance services	342
4.4. Education services	361
4.5. Health services	372
4.6. Services for the family	386
4.7. Services for the youth	398
4.8. Services for people with disabilities	413
4.9. Services for senior citizens	431
Conclusion	450

Chapter 5. Challenges and scenarios for the development of the social service perspective in Poland 453

Introduction 453

5.1. Dilemmas for the development of social services 454

5.2. Arguments for the adoption of the social services perspective 461

5.3. Social assistance reform as an example of a necessary change 468

5.4. The Act on Social Service Centres as an example of appreciation of the service perspective in social policy 483

5.5. Application of innovation and technology in social services..... 496

5.6. The coronavirus pandemic and new social services..... 507

5.7. The Swallow of Welfare as the author’s model of the future of welfare state in the context of scenarios of social services development 516

5.8. General recommendations for science and practice 523

Conclusion 532

Conclusion 533

Summary 548

References 562

List of tables, diagrams and charts 595