

1952 and 1997 Polish constitutions: tradition, institutions, political practice

Edited by:
Anna Materska-Sosnowska
Tomasz Słomka

CONTENTS

Introduction	9
Tomasz Słomka Between two constitutions: a few words on political continuity and alteration	11
Ryszard Piotrowski Notes on the social function of the constitution	21
Rafał Więckiewicz Constitutionalization of civil society in the time of the Polish People's Republic	30
Wojciech Sokół Ritual and democratic elections in the light of legal solutions (on the example of Polish experiences)	56
Anna Materska-Sosnowska Façade elections	68
Marcin Dobrowolski Voting age modifications in the light of structural solutions of the Third Republic of Poland	81
Bożena Dziemidok-Olszewska The system of state bodies in the 1952 and 1997 constitutions	100

Krystyna Leszczyńska
The status of Cabinet members in the light of legal and constitutional solutions and constitutional practice (1997–2014)	111
Monika Kowalska
Constitutional responsibility – from the past to the present	136
Krzysztof Urbaniak
Appointment of judges of the Constitutional Court in the light of the Constitution of the Polish People’s Republic and the Constitution of the Republic of Poland	160
Anna Materska-Sosnowska, Michał Mistygacz
Evaluation of goals and activities of political parties by the Constitutional Court	176
Jowanka Jakubek-Lalik
Local authority in political order of the Polish People’s Republic and the Republic of Poland	200
Ryszard Chruściak
Proposed amendments to the Constitution – between 1997 and 2012	213
Notes of the authors	237